SUMMARY

I am a web developer with a background in management and IT. I'm personable, self-motivated and I work well on a team. My time working as a field tech, traveling around the US and the globe, as well as my life-long personal interest in tinkering with tech, have given me a good grasp on people, history, culture, and of bunch of tech-oriented subject matter. I'm an empathetic person with a natural tendency to help others, and I also have a good sense of humor.
